FREE TILE KEY

Meet the Tiles

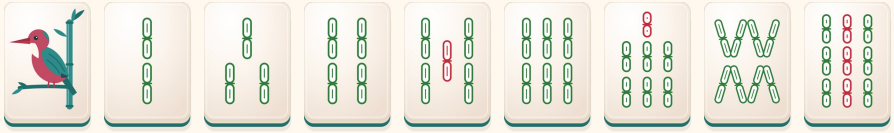

SHIOK! SINGAPORE MAHJONG

A Singapore set has 148 tiles: 108 suit tiles, 28 honor tiles and 12 bonus tiles. There are four of each suit and honor tile.

Circles
Suit · 1 to 9

Bamboo
Suit · 1 to 9

Characters
Suit · 1 to 9

Winds
Honor tiles

Dragons
Honor tiles

Flowers
Bonus · 1 to 4

Seasons
Bonus · 1 to 4

Animals
Bonus · two bites

Look for the bird. The tile with the bird on it is the 1 Bamboo. It's always a bird, but the bird varies from set to set.

FREE TILE KEY

Your Seat and Bonus Tiles

SHIOK! SINGAPORE MAHJONG

Eat Soup With Noodles

The winds go East, South, West, North. Play moves counterclockwise around the table.

Player wind

The dice decide the first banker, who is East. The player to the banker's right is South, then West, then North.

Prevailing wind

Shared by the whole table. It starts at East and changes to South, West and North each time the banker position goes all the way around.

Your valued winds

Your player wind and the prevailing wind. A pong (three of a kind) of either adds a level to your hand.

South East

Example: you're South and the prevailing wind is East. A pong of South or East adds a level. West or North doesn't.

Flowers and seasons

Never keep them in your hand. Set them aside and draw a replacement. Your own number adds a level.

East	South	West	North
1	2	3	4

Animals and bites

Set them aside and draw a replacement, like flowers. Each animal adds a level to a winning hand.

Cat → Mouse Rooster → Centipede

The cat catches the mouse, and the rooster eats the centipede. Collect both animals in a bite, and everyone pays you right away, even if you don't win the hand.

House rules: there's no official rule book for Singapore mahjong, and many groups have their own variations. Always ask your host what their house rules are.